| Description | | | |
| Large ASAS control description and information still reflects pre-update functionality. this does not look to be in-line with the updated smaller version. | | | |
| <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Mouse over Large ASAS controller• information is still pre-0.21 | | | |
| Also there is no included reaction wheels, which may be a design decision but as the smaller module received them and the above information was not updated this looks more likely an omission rather than a design choice. | | | |

History

- Status changed from New to Not a Bug
- % Done changed from 0 to 100

This was a design decision. The Large ASAS has no room for reaction wheels.

Although 0.21.1 has fixed the reaction wheels the description is still pre-asas change and does not look to match the part anymore.
