This can probably be rejected, as the tutorials have been completely redone. There are errors in them, though, so a feedback report ~~has been~~ will soon be created. I'll add a link here once I finish making the report.

The erroneous text is still in 0.90. I have a correction for this in a Github repository, along with all the other tutorial dialog text I could find: <https://github.com/meyerweb/massive-dangerzone>

After massive tutorial overhaul, it would make more sense to have fresh writeups.
