Description

What happens: When landing on the Duna, I can research only one biome - "Duna's Surface". It's shows when i using everything: from "Crew Report" to "Matherials Bay" and taking "Surface Sample".

What i do:

â Orbiting to Duna shuttle with Lander;
â Landing once on exemplary coordinates:

0° 5' 11" N
47° 18' 12" E

â Return back to station on the orbit.
â Try to land on other biome.

Notes:

â I've done a number of attempts of searching other biomes.
â Now, while the game says me that the giant north polar cap of planet is just a "Surface" (Means biome), I sreenshot and put it here.

This isn't a bug - all celestial bodies except for Minmus, the Mun, and Kerbin only have one biome. Laythe and Eve have oceans to get science from, but besides that all planets only have one biome.

re: AndrewHansen

Very sorry. And generally, biomes will be added?
