

Kerbal Space Program - Bug #12062

When loading a craft, the camera teleports into space and I lose control.

Description

I have a station but when I load it on the runway, right as the physics start to be calculated, the camera just shows the skybox of space and I cant control it. When I hit F3 it doesn't say anything happened. It's just gone and glitched out. It only does this for one craft though.

Hi chippy, please see the wiki and attach your game logs and dxiag.

Also, update the issue with the version of KSP you encountered this on, thank you.
