Description

Steps to reproduce: Go into the Settings menu, exit back out to the main menu using the "accept" or "cancel" buttons.

This crashes the game to desktop about 2 times out of 3. Whether or not you changed any settings while you were in there seems to have little impact on the chances of a crash occurring. Any changes you make DO get saved to settings.cfg though, and are in effect when you restart KSP.

Most of the time the game doesn't bother to generate a crash dump folder when this happens but on rare occasions it will, so I'm attaching the one I just got.
