Description

There were games in the past, which allowed to make just personal notes typed in. I would find it helpful to do something similar to KSP.

Have a button somewhere, which lead you to your log/journal, where you can write down, what you want, i.e. what you want to do next when playing the game again, or what happened and like to remember - whatever.

Maybe there would be some more interesting options to include other stuff (active crafts, planets, missions...) with a custom log/journal to produce a flightplan or whatever.

I would love to be able to write down my own mission checklist of to-dos and be able to check them manually as the mission progresses. It could be in the top right menu.
