Description
With all the bugs in 1.4 requiring full attention I think there's probably a dev out there that wants a short break to do something fun: How about giving Engineers the power to modify spring/damper settings in the flight scene? :D It would certainly make tweaking these settings on planes and rovers much less tedious and it would give me a very good reason to have engineers around for other reasons than just "sits in mining rig for more ore". ps. I ticked all the platform/expansion boxes because I have to tick atleast one and figured this would span all the platforms anyway so ticked them all.
