

Kerbal Space Program - Feedback #20737

"All Stage" dV button should be a toggle.

Description

The "All Stages" dV button at the bottom of the staging order display feels like a toggle, but all it does is open or close all stages.

I expected when creating a new stage, after clicking that button, for that new stage to be expanded but it was not.

I suggest turning the "All stages" button into a toggle, that is visibly pressed down or not depending on the state.
