Description

See picture.

The shadow of starboard side engine nacelle is partially visible on the cargo bay door, but not on the flags.

Note that the engine nacelles are orange tanks covered with custom flags (fully transparent image with stock white background). They are affected too, as can be seen on the port side one.

The shadow of starboard side engine nacelle is partially visible on the cargo bay, through transparent parts of a flag, but not on the colored parts of the flags (not on pixels).

Note that the engine nacelles are orange tanks covered with custom flags (fully transparent image with stock white background). These are affected too, as can be seen on the port side nacelle.
