Description

The Full-Thrust Hotkey "Z" and the german Keyboard Layout it "QWERTZ" which moves the hotkey from right next the "X" for Engine-Cutoff to the middle of the Keyboard.

Layout attached.

Tested on Win32 but the issue is probably there an ony OS.

- Description updated

Unfortunately KSP does not support locales at present, so keyboard layouts will be different depending on your preferred language.

This can be worked around by remapping your Y key to Full thrust in the settings. The Y key is currently unused.

I have set this to a feedback issue, and it will be forwarded to the developers.
