Description

There are two errors in the "Welcome to the Space Center" window that is shown when loading the Space Center scene for the first time. There should be a space after the second sentence of the second paragraph. The last paragraph is also missing a period.

I chose "Windows" as the platform as I'm not able to try recreating this on any other OS. I do, however, believe it is not a platform-specific bug but just a mistake in the code. Please see attached screenshot.
