This looks like an issue with your installation. Make sure you don't have any duplicated config files. If you're using Steam, you can delete your Kerbal Space Program\GameData folder, then right-click the game in Steam, go to properties, local files, and verify integrity of game cache. This will redownload the game files.

Thank you! I've fixed it, there are still some problems with the NASA parts, but I guess the solution will be the same.

Thanks again!
