Description

Hey, I sent a ship down to investigate an apparent antarctic continent on Laythe for resource extraction. I found nothing. See the shadow on the map? The other screenshot, as is verifiable by Jool's position in the sky, is the one that should be encountering land/ice/??? but is in empty ocean.

Okay, okay, I admit to doing a little bragging about getting that ship all the way up to Laythe and sailing it for hundreds of miles...

U gotta see the launcher for that thing, it's 4,000 tons! -- the thermal kraken really loves it though. =(

I checked approximate location indicated in your screenshots and Laythe's ice cap looks fine to me at that place.
