Description

I would find it way more useful if the files in the load game screen were ordered by time (newest first) instead of alphabet.

in almost all cases, the game i want to load is one of the last ones saved, but the current sorting puts those games either at the end or somewhere in the middle.

To clarify this, i aim this primarily at the load screen in the game (at the space center or mod+f9), but it would work for the load window at the main menu as well.

Even just ordering by intelligent lexical sort, using a number-aware sort that puts 2 before 10, would help. Or prefixing all quicksaves with 0001, 0002, etc.
